General Information

ACADEMIC SURGICAL CONGRESS 2018 INTERACTIVE EXHIBITS

Learn > Play > Compete

The ASC is launching a new exhibit model to more deeply engage attendees at booths and drive traffic into the hall. We encourage each exhibiting company to feature a hands-on skills module, game or quiz which will challenge attendees to successfully complete within a given time frame. The tasks can range from knot tying, to suturing, to simulated skills or games, each of which tests some aspect of surgical ability or knowledge.

How It Works

- Participating exhibitors will be granted an additional 4' (standard booth size is 8'x10', interactive booth size is: 8'x14') to accommodate their interactive module (task, game, quiz)
- Task/game should not be longer than 3 minutes
- Devise a scoring system for the featured assignment
- Record and post the name or initials of the attendee participant along with their score in your booth. This can be a simple sign in sheet with the name and score. You may also Tweet competition updates: #asc2018.
- Task/game must be approved by the ASC Program leadership.
- Prizes will be awarded to the participant with the top, combined score and for the top scorer for each booth. (Prizes provided by the ASC) Winners will be announced during the morning break on Thursday, February 1.

Entice attendees to visit your booth to test their skills or knowledge. The featured skill or game can relate to your product or service, but it is not required.
